SUN SMILES AS CAL WOOS FISH

Well-Stocked Hooks Put Into River As Rain Falls In Superior

Superior, Wis., June 16.—A smiling sun at Cedar Island lodge versus a steady rain in Superior gave President Coolidge a valid excuse today to defer his initial visit to the temporary executive offices and devote himself to a Saturday of fishing.

He was up early completing yesterday's cursory survey of the elaborate Brule river camp and when word was phoned in that Superior was apparently in for a day of solid rain, the fishing decision was quickly made.

The city and Cedar Island lodge are separated by the divide he counted on to keep the rain away from his end of the summer establishment.

Col. E. W. Starling, assistant chief of the White House secret service, who has been in the north woods for the past two weeks, acquainting himself and making arrangements for the presidential advent, accompanied Mr. Coolidge on the fishing expedition.

Mrs. Coolidge meanwhile continues to rest. Although she is steadily improving Colonel James F. Coughlin, the White House physician deemed it best that she submit to a few more days of complete relaxation. Miss Mildred Beet, the navy nurse, is on hand to minister to her wants.

SIMPSON IS NOT RETURNING HERE

Fletcher Simpson, of Kent, has been principal of Salem school for next year and has left the city.

Simpson's action was brought to the attention of the board of education Friday night by Supt. J. S. voted to retain Simpson, along with other supervisors. No successor has been chosen.

The principal could not be reached for confirmation of reports that he will study medicine.

14 File For Senate; Fess Is Unopposed For Long Term

Columbus, June 16.—Official declarations of 64 candidates for nominations for political offices at Ohio's statewide primaries to be held on Aug. 14, were on file here today at Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown's office.

These declarations include those of 11 candidates for governor, 14 candidates for U. S. senator and 39 candidates for other state offices.

Opportunity for the filing of these declarations expired last midnight in accord with Ohio law.

Of the gubernatorial candidates, six are Republicans and five are Democrats. Seven Republicans are candidates for U. S. senator and six Democrats are seeking the two senatorial terms.

Fess, Brown are Unopposed
In the G. O. P. primary race, U. S. Senator Simeon D. Fess, Yellow Springs, is unopposed for re-nomination for a second full six-year term.

Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown is unopposed in his quest for re-nomination, and State Treasurer Bert B. Buckley, Dayton, seeking re-nomination, has no opponent.

In the Democratic primary contest the only candidate who has no opposition is Atty. Francis Poulson, Cleveland, who is seeking the nomination for attorney general.

It is expected that after the August primaries, Judge Florence E. Allen of the Ohio supreme court, will become a candidate for re-election at the November election, by filing a nomination petition.

Declarations on file at the secretary of state's office include:

Eleven For Governor
For Governor—Republicans: Congressman James T. Begg, Sandusky; Atty. Gen. Edward C. Turner, Columbus; Myers V. Cooper, Cincinnati; Fred Kohler, Cleveland; Harry A. Shanley, Forest; Harry C. Smith of Cleveland, colored.

Paint Airway Sign On Plant Building

Paint has been received by Mayor Phil G. Hiddleston for the airway sign to be painted in the city.

Brushes, donated by a brush company, were also received and both paint and brushes were sent to the Mullins Manufacturing Corp. where the sign will be painted on the roof of the packing shed.

The sign will be painted on the packing shed instead of the press room due to the difference in the roofing, the former being more suitable to the paint to be used.

SUMMER SCHOOL TEACHERS NAMED

CURTIS TO LEAD CORN BELT INTO FOLD IS BELIEF

His Nomination may allay Much of Bitterness Shown This Week

HE'S BEEN KNOWN AS FARM FRIEND

Fear No Third Party But Wait to See What Lowden Will Do

Kansas City, June 16.—The Republicans cleared out of Kansas City today a good deal of anger and confidence than they thought they could be several days ago when angry and embittered farmers were turning at the doors of their national convention.

The nomination of Senator Curtis as vice president, the party leaders believe, will do much to allay the bitterness of the radical exponents of farm relief, and the resentful valedictory of Frank O. Lowden that the Republican platform "failed to meet fully and squarely" the needs of the grain belt.

Curtis has for years marched under the banner "the farmers friend." Kansas lays claim to being the very heart of the great agricultural region that stretches from the Ohio-Indiana line to the Rockies.

Curtis voted for the McNary-Haugen bill. It is true that on the question of the veto he voted to sustain the president, but he explained that by saying he deemed it his duty to do so because of his position as Republican leader of the senate.

Aids Serious Condition
Of the bitterness of the farmers, or the farm organizations that were represented in Kansas City there can be no doubt. When battalions of them try to storm the doors of a Republican national convention it indicates that the situation, if not actually serious, at least may become so.

The Lowden statement that he did not care to be the nominee on such a platform as the Republicans adopted here was calculated to be only kerosene to the fire.

This is the situation which the Republican leaders believe the nomination of Charley Curtis—and time—will do much to ameliorate.

The talk of "bolt" and the talk of a third party which was everywhere prevalent a few days ago, had virtually all died out today.

Offsets Lowden Statement

SALEM MEN ARE HELD AT LISBON

Fined $200 Each and Sent To Jail For Possession Of Wet Equipment

John Journey, residing on the Damascus rd., one mile west of Salem, and Megaclett G. Foreman, of Salem, were each fined $200 and sent to jail for possession of wet equipment.

Both men signed a waiver, entered a plea of guilty, and were committed to the county jail in default of payment of fine.

The two men were arrested Friday by Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Kindsvater, near Logtown in Center township. They were occupying an abandoned house in the woods on the Cooper and Davison farm.

Deputy Kindsvater brought to Lisbon a copper boiler, a 25 gallon copper still, 125 pounds of sugar, 25 pounds of rice, three pounds of yeast cake, and destroyed three mash barrels, one of which contained mash. Two old cook stoves had been erected in the house.

The two men moved into the place Tuesday night and were just beginning to operate when Kindsvater arrived at the place, it was said.

Foreman told the court this morning he bought the still "from a stranger," paying $5 for it. He said he had found the coils. Journey said he had bought the ingredients.

30 KILLED IN WARSAW RIOT
Warsaw, June 16.—One hundred thousand unemployed workers staged a huge demonstration in Moscow during which they clashed with the police and 30 persons were killed and 127 wounded, dispatches from unofficial sources in the soviet capital state today.

The clashes occurred when government soldiers attempted to disperse the demonstrators.

McNary Says Hoover Is Sympathetic To Farm Relief Plans

Washington, June 16.—Following a conference with Herbert Hoover, Republican presidential nominee today Senator McNary (R) of Oregon, co-author of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill declared that he "had found Hoover sympathetic and anxious to relieve the distress of the farm population."

"The agricultural plank in the Republican platform commits the party to the enactment of legislation that will place agriculture on a basis of economic equality with industry," McNary said.

"The party must keep this pledge and I have ample confidence that it will."

1,000 FAMILIES HOMELESS AS LEVEE BREAKS

St. Francis River Floods Kennett and Nearby Missouri Area

LOSE HARD FIGHT TO HALT WATERS

Third Rise of River, Expected by Tuesday, To Take Bigger Toll

Chicago, June 16.—No danger of a repetition of the disastrous floods which swept the Mississippi valley last year was foreseen here today by the United States Weather bureau.

Professor Henry J. Cox, forecaster of the Chicago area, said he had received special weather reports today from stations along the Mississippi which reported a lowering of the stage at St. Louis and other places.

Popular Bluff, Mo., June 16.—Approximately 1,000 families were made homeless when the levee of the St. Francis river broke at Kennett, Mo., 35 miles southwest of here today.

The breaking of the levee caused the swollen St. Francis river to spread over a mile area, and threatened devastation to 25,000 acres of fertile land in southwest Missouri.

Red Cross headquarters were being established at Kennett for relief of the flood sufferers.

Approximately 150 families were reported in immediate need of assistance.

Fifty companies of national guardsmen have been patrolling the river during the last week.

Hundreds of citizens of Kennett and the surrounding territory fought a terrific battle all day yesterday and last night until the levee gave way.

Second Rise This Week
The rise of the St. Francis was the second this week, and a third rise is expected by Tuesday.

It is believed here the river would go a foot and a half higher at the third crest, inundating other thousands of acres of land in the territory.

The break of the St. Francis river levee followed another break in the levee of the White river near Newport, Ark., where more than 100 families were made homeless by the swollen waters.

It was hoped the levee in the White river would relieve the pressure (Continued on Page 4)

PLANT CONTRACT AWARD DELAYED

Board of Control to Take Angles Up With Solons Tuesday Night

The contract for the construction of the city's disposal plant was not awarded by the board of control this week as scheduled, the board deciding in their last meeting to take up several angles of the plant's construction up before city council Tuesday night, and to discuss the matter further with the contracting companies.

The plans for the plant have been formally approved by the state department of health, and work on the new plant will start within 24 hours following the awarding of the contract, Mayor Phil G. Hiddleston said today.

Seven bids for the contract were received by the board and it had previously been decided to award the contract at a meeting Thursday. The decision to delay the action came after the board, consisting of Mayor Hiddleston, Safety Director Rex W. Ruggie, and Service Director Charles A. Cavanaugh decided to consult council before taking the action.

Political Comedies Please Audience at Church Last Night

There was a good attendance at the plays, "Cornelia Pickle, Plain-tiff," and the "Podunk Political Club" given Friday evening at the Christian church by members of the Loyal Women's class. Both plays concerned women in politics and gave very humorous accounts of their ideas on the subject.

In addition to the plays several special numbers entertained. Mrs. F. D. Mossop of Alliance sang, "After I've Called You Sweetheart, How Can I Call You Friend?" and then entertained with a comic solo, "Bridget O'Flynn." Other numbers included: Readings by Mrs. Virginia Courtney; vocal solos, Arnold Lutes; violin solos, Alta Moores; and whistling solos by Mrs. James Briggs of Canton.

These Youths Qualify As Good Democrats
St. Clairsville, June 16.—A group of small boys are held here today charged with cutting telephone wires, near here, and disrupting broadcasting of the Kansas City convention by Pittsburgh radio stations Thursday.

American Telephone and Telegraph officials reported service was out nearly an hour. Two toll lines and the main St. Louis trunk wire were cut, they said.

Alliance Methodist Young Men's Class Coming Here Sunday

Sunday morning the True Blue class of Alliance First Methodist Episcopal church will be the guests of the Young Men's class of the Salem Methodist church.

Dr. E. S. Collier will preach a special sermon to them on the topic, "My Candidate."

"At noon the visiting class will be entertained by Mrs. Kaminsky's class at luncheon in the church dining room."

Switzer; first vice-president, Kathryn Littv; second vice-president, Luella Hoopes; third vice-president, Charles Bennett; fourth vice-president, Robert Hartman; secretary, Bessie Floyd; treasurer, Robert Rheutan; pianist, Cora Seeks; institute secretary, Ethel Shears; publicity secretary, Helen Dressel; membership officer, Ruth Eakin.

NORRIS BOOMS HIS DEFIANCE AT PLATFORM

Also Assails Nominees of Republicans Today In Scathing Outburst

Washington, June 16.—The troubles of the new Hoover-Curtis-Borah Republican setup started today bright and early.

As Secretary Hoover was reading congratulatory telegrams, Senator Norris (R) of Nebraska, a leader of the farm bloc, unleashed a ripping attack against the Republican "dictators."

Norris boomed defiance with a bitter arraignment of the administration, giving rise to reports that a third party is about to be launched.

He assailed the Kansas City platform and nominee and said "it will be a sad disappointment to every progressive citizen of the country."

"A direct slap is administered to the farmers of the country," Norris said. "Their plea is cast aside with the usual promise of a glittering generalities."

Hits Power Trust Activities
"The platform is silent on the domination of our politics, our social activities, our schools and our churches by the secret, disgraceful methods of the water power trust, now being discussed before the federal trade commission."

"It is silent on the disgraceful and unpatriotic disclosures made by the investigation of the naval oil leases. Not a word is said in condemnation of the stealing of public property valued at many millions by Doheny, Sinclair and Fall."

"Neither is their condemnation given to Mr. Hays, the former chairman of the Republican National committee, for accepting part of the loot in behalf of that committee."

"That is not surprising because the same men who controlled the convention have fought, every step (Continued on Page 5)

Band Wagon Goes Back on Its Bus Route

Kansas City, June 16.—This busy metropolis of the plains returned to normalcy today.

The Hoover band wagon, which looked as if it might have come straight from the circus grounds, has gone back to its regular route.

Hoover and Curtis! It was no fault of the city that the Republican convention failed to arouse those frenzied throngs which usually accompany such party gatherings.

Kansas City, the delegates did not put on a good show.

They called this a convention, but it was more of a ratification meeting, Hoover was "in" long in advance of the balloting. Everybody knew Curtis would be vice presidential nominee hours before the final session opened. The platform was approved substantially as it was written weeks ago by Senator Smoot of Utah and a handful of Hoover leaders.

The first act of the quadrennial show, entitled, "Political Conventions," is over. The performance will be continued at Houston on June 26 when the Democrats will gather to select a ticket to oppose Hoover and Curtis in November.

NOBLE'S POSSIBLE HAVEN

Franz Josef land, where an expedition expects to find Noble and his companions of the dirigible Italia, was the center of interest in a balloon disaster 30 years ago.

The radio has informed civilization that Noble and his crew are adrift in the Arctic, and the nearest calculations indicate that the Italia very likely is somewhere in the vicinity of Franz Josef land.

After the Swedish explorer, Andree, disappeared in his balloon in 1897, north of Spitzbergen, close to the place at which Noble's dirigible was recently lost, explorers were hopeful that he had drifted eastward to Franz Josef land.

Walter Wehman, assisted by the National Geographic Society of the United States, led an expedition to Franz Josef land the following year and thought it likely he would find Andree at Cape Flora, on one of the southernmost of the islands which was known by Andree to be a headquarters and a frequent point of call for explorers.

Andree was not at Cape Flora, however, and no trace of him or his balloon was ever found.

Although Franz Josef land is desolate and ice-mantled and has never been inhabited, it is possible for men to exist there, even through the winter, as the history of Arctic exploration proves.

The political status of Franz Josef land is not clear. Discovered by Austro-Hungarians and explored by British, Americans, Russians and Italians, it was claimed unofficially in 1924 by Russia.

WHY SO MUCH FUSS?

Someone has said that the husband who makes a fuss because he finds a button off a shirt, has met and conquered few great obstacles.

Certainly he has not encountered enough big things to gain control in little things.

The bigger the man, the less he is roused by unimportant, though, perhaps, displeasing conditions.

When a man has had to overcome far more emotion stirring misfortunes than that missing shirt button, he can brush small matters aside.

It is the man who has had his own way too much who lets trifles fluster and unfit him for companionship.

The man of large affairs must have control of his temper. Otherwise he could not handle big situations successfully.

Life is full of little vexations—little things that would sour and spoil much that could be enjoyable, if one were in the habit of giving way to temper.

There is enough demand on the nervous system already. Don't throw a fit over trivial things.

And what does a button off a shirt amount to?

What Others Say

ELECTRIC WATCHMEN

It would be a mistake to regard the Westinghouse company's telegraph with its newest accomplishment of talking out loud as a mere scientific toy or an exhibit to astonish the natives by scientific wonders.

The device is perhaps too new for its precise niche in the workaday world to be apparent, but there is small doubt that it will have one. Many jobs need to be done nowadays that do not require the full abilities of a man. Watchmen at railway crossings are replaced by automatic apparatus with electric eyes and ears and voices. Telephone operators yield to the marvelous mechanical brain of the automatic exchange. The temperatures of fire-underneath factory boilers, the pressures in reaction tanks in chemical works, even the amounts of combustible gases allowed to escape unburnt by power plant chimneys, all are watched and recorded nowadays by automatic machines. A superintendent seated comfortably in his office a mile or two away reads on a dial on his wall exactly what is happening from second to second.

Joined to these new devices for inspection from a distance are the lengthened arms and fingers which engineers call devices for "remote control." In these the distributors of electric power have been special pioneers. Substations where high-voltage electric power is reduced to safe potentials and distributed to the consumers' wiring, switching points where parts of a power network are connected or disconnected as circumstances require, most such are now operated by orders from some distant dispatcher's office, as generals issue orders to units of their armies. The gradual substitution of these remote controls for human watchmen is one of two outstanding developments in the handling of electric power; the other one being the highly efficient steam plants which now generate most of the country's electricity and of which New York possesses a remarkable example in the East River station on Fourteenth st.

Remote reporting and remote control have been accomplished in the past chiefly by electric signals, like the bell that announces a visitor or the buzzer that calls the office boy. Some progress has been made, also, in remote control by light rays. The televisor embodies a third channel of communication, one which happens to be that chiefly used by man. This is control by sound. The man's vocal abilities, of the televisor, consisting of speeches, embalmed on film records and run off on proper signal, are probably less important than the ability of the machine to listen to sound signals and in some degree to interpret and obey them. With sound added to light rays and electricity as means of communicating with our new mechanical servants there will be still fewer limitations to the power of man to watch and listen and direct without being present in the flesh.—New York Tribune.

NORRIS'S WEIRD NOTION

Senator Norris has contributed to the joyful nonsense of the time by contending that President Coolidge can not give the Muscle Shoals bill "pocket veto" treatment because congress has not really adjourned, but has merely "recessed."

Recessed until when? Until the next regular session opens in December as prescribed by the constitutional provision regarding the commencement of sessions. If that isn't adjournment by congress, nothing is.

Or look at the matter another way. The constitution says that if the president does not return a bill to congress within ten days, it becomes a law without his signature, as though he had signed it, "unless congress by their adjournment prevents its return in which case it shall not become law." Suppose Mr. Coolidge had desired to affix a veto to the Muscle Shoals bill or to some other bill, to whom would he return it, congress having dispersed? There would be nobody to whom he could send it, and under the Norris theory, he would be deprived of one of his chief constitutional prerogatives. Which is a manifest absurdity.—Detroit Free Press.

SKIN ERUPTIONS OFTEN DUE TO NEGLECT

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D., United States Senator From New York, Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

There are many varieties of skin disease. Some have redness of the surfaces. Others have swellings. Still others take the form of pimples or sore patches.

"Impetigo" is a name given to certain forms of blisters, which appear on an otherwise healthy skin. They dry down into crusts, which, on falling off, leave a superficial raw surface. This sore place speedily heals with no scarring as a result.

It is probable that impetigo is due to an infection with some pus producing germ. A favorite location is the face, particularly at some point around the mouth. It may appear on the nose, the ear, the hands and feet and indeed anywhere on the body.

Impetigo usually lasts four or five days or a week, but it may hang on for weeks. It all depends on the powers of resistance. Young children develop a form of impetigo which causes the face to look as if it were covered with dried honey. Sometimes this form is called "milk crusts."

Most forms of impetigo are infectious. That is, if the discharge is carried by a razor blade or other toilet article, a previously healthy skin may become involved. Wherever the germs find a broken surface they enter and multiply.

This habit of the disease makes it an uncomfortable complication of any other skin trouble. A burn or an eczema may have impetigo engrafted upon it.

The Stars Say—

For Sunday, June 17.

By GENEVIEVE REMBLE.

SUNDAY'S horoscope points to unusual circumstances and conditions, difficult to decipher. Affairs may be stirring, despite stubborn obstacles. New projects and employment may be at footed but favorably if an unyielding ground be held. Personal popularity may effect this.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a significant year, with much of the eventful and stirring. New ventures and employment should thrive if well directed and assisted by personal popularity and appeal. A child born on the day may have many graces and personal talents which may assist it out of stubborn and difficult situations. It may have an eventful career.

Be steadfast as a tower that does not bend its stately summit to the tempest's shock.—Dante.

For Monday, June 18.

A LIVELY and particularly stirring day is forecast from the movements of important planets. These indicate change of a sudden nature, far-reaching and radical. It is probable that they relate to entirely new ventures or ambitions, which should bring ample financial returns if no entanglements or misunderstandings be allowed to enter into the transactions. Be cautious also against embracing opportunities too abruptly.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of unforeseen and stirring events, with change and new ventures. These should prosper if not too carelessly embraced and if there be no loopholes for misunderstanding or fraud. A child born on this day may be restless and unsettled in disposition but may be capable of occupying important position or one in diplomatic service or with large corporations. It may be ambitious and have singular insight. His own character is the arbiter of every one's fortune.—Synus.

Screen Stars Begin Culture of Voices For Talking Movies

Chicago, June 16.—The talking movie is doing away with the beautiful but dumb screen queen.

It likewise will cause cinema followers a great deal of disillusionment, according to C. C. Jettison, counsel at New York for the central board of trade. Pettibohn made the prediction recently on a visit to Chicago.

Suppose you suddenly discovered that:

1. Mary Pickford whispered in bass undertone?
2. That Wallace Beery had a tender voice?

3. That Jackie Coogan speaks with an Irish brogue?

It may not be so astounding as that Mr. Pettibohn indicated, but it will be had enough.

Recognizing their peril, Mr. Pettibohn said, nearly all the film stars are studying voice culture.

"Talking moving pictures will revolutionize the business," he declared.

So it may be necessary for film actors to qualify for grand opera or at least undergo strict voice tests.

"THINK OF THIS"

I Cor. 13:4 "Love . . . is kind."

A quiet woman who was not known widely outside of her community left a great void when she passed from this world. A friend gave her tribute. "She always made things easier." That was the secret of her charm and gentle influence. From her husband to her household, everyone in the family felt his or her way smoothed by her tact and kindness. She was an example of George Eliot's saying, "What do we live for if it is not to make life less difficult for one another?"

Services Sunday, June 17, the Second Sunday after Trinity. Celebration of the Holy Communion 7:30.

Church school, 9:30. Morning prayer and sermon 11. The Rev. Harry R. Hole, rector of St. James church, Choboygan, Mich., will preach at this service.

The central teaching for the second Sunday after Trinity is that of God's good providence. The doctrine of the Providence of God is a very important one, and of special interest in our time. It needs to be brought more frequently before Christian people. There are views, which are held consciously or unconsciously by many, which are contrary to the teaching of Scripture, in regard to God's government of the world. And the spirit of materialistic philosophy runs directly contrary to the truth of Providence that God orders and overrules all things according to His holy will.

It is a truth clearly revealed in the Old Testament, and everywhere emphasized in the New; "Not a sparrow falleth but your God doth not know." Providence is a doctrine which finds its basis in the character of God as Creator-Father, and in the nature of man as a dependent being. It is impossible to conceive a God, absolutely perfect in His nature, having all power, who would create a world and care nothing about it afterwards.

Even the pagans, apart from revelation have felt this, and have boldly defended, as in the case of Cicero, belief in a Providence. In Christian theology, it has long been recognized that while God's care over all His works, there are different degrees in its exercise. There is a general Providence which covers the whole of creation; a particular Providence which is concerned with man, and a special Providence which embraces the children of the Kingdom. There are, said the saintly Rutherford, a thousand keys in the hand of Providence to open a thousand doors.

And certain it is that there are many thousands of instances of the overruling of conditions, and circumstances, and events by God. Wellington was no enthusiast, yet he wrote a brief note after Waterloo, which ended thus: "I have escaped unhurt; the finger of Providence was on me." And there are few things more remarkable in history than the experience of Louis Caldy, a native of Montpelier in France, during the earthquake at Port Royal Jamaica, in 1692. His epitaph reads that "he was swallowed up by the earthquake, but, by the great Providence of God, was, by a second shock, flung into the sea, where he continued swimming till rescued by a boat and lived forty years afterwards."

It was a sense of the constant love and care of God over him, that led Richard Boyle the great Earl of Cork, who had risen with God's blessing from small beginnings, to take as his motto "God's Providence is my inheritance."

Four towns are in the path of the raging White river waters. They are Tupelo, Auverne, Schoffner and Weldon.

Gap is Growing Larger
A 50-foot section of the 17-mile levee gave way, and the gap is constantly growing larger. More than a half million acres of land drained by the White river and its tributaries have been inundated.

Heavy rains of the past few weeks have made the White, Cache, Black, St. Francis and Little Red River reach flood proportions.

Refugees have been trooping into the towns of Clarendon and Newport where the levees withstood the disastrous floods of 1927. The Newport levees were being zealously guarded by hundreds of anxious professional and business men and farmers.

Precautions also were being taken at Georgetown, Ark., where the crest of the White river is approaching. Georgetown is another levee protected town.

The White river and its twin the Cache have been causing the greater portion of the damage in the Arkansas territory, but the other swollen streams have covered the unprotected lowlands.

A Fashion Model's Diary
By GRACE THORNCLIFFE
She Tells of a Stunning New Tweed Dress.

SEVERAL times ago Helene and I set out for a trial of a new restaurant she'd discovered, and lunched so well that we felt too expensive to return to the shop immediately, so we embarked on a brief shopping expedition—the express purpose of which was to buy me some gun-metal stockings and one of the new, large chiffon handkerchiefs.

An hour and a half later, we returned to the shop, stockings and handkerchiefs, but with enough yards of simply beautiful lavender tweed to make into a sport dress for me. The fatal part was that I had spotted a bargain counter of tweed before we could get to the stocking counter. Now I have no stockings, a suit for a lady to be in to see the least, and several yards of tweed to use in a dress that I absolutely do not need.

Ah, well, that's the danger of touring the shops on pay day. The tweed was so luscious and such a bargain that I couldn't resist.

I shall make it up simply—because it sewing ability as well as taste. The blouse will be plain, with a piped vestee, yoke, trimmed with buttons similar to many I have seen. Underneath this will be a vestee of beige crepe de Chine. The sleeves I shall cut snug and trim with one button. The skirt will be plain except for a repetition of the blouse inset. I've seen this done on several models and thought it very attractive.

I have a deep violet suede belt left tion of itself will eventually offset the effect of Lowden's stinging rebuke to his party. They concede that Lowden is extremely popular from Indiana westward to the Rockies, and that his views carry weight with the farmers of that region. But they do not believe that Lowden, even in his bitterest moments, would essay to lead any open revolt against the Republican party this autumn.

The vision of Frank O. Lowden admittedly the only man, now that "Fighting Bob" LaFollette is dead, becoming the symbol of a third party movement in the west is to them an impossible one. Lowden is a Republican of some 40 years regularity. So are most of the men who fought with him in Kansas City—Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, Vice President Dawes, and Senator Curtis himself, who now has consented to stand on the platform this convention adopted. So were most of their friends. Hence they believe the threat of a third party agrarian movement this fall is an idle one.

The representatives of the anti-Hoover coalition have been doing a great deal of post-mortem since Thursday night, seeking to place the blame for their defeat and Hoover's nomination.

FURTHER LOSSES

New York, June 16.—Further losses were recorded in the active industrial stocks at the opening today. The rails were steady. With Aitchison up 1/2 at 139 and New York Central unchanged at 172 1/2, Wright Aero was down 1/4 at 141 1/2; U. S. Steel down 1 at 138; General Electric down 1/4 at 145 1/2; General Motors down 1/4 at 177 1/2; Hudson down 1/4 at 81 1/2; American Linseed down 1/4 at 112 1/2; Gold Dust up 1/4 at 9 1/2; Standard Oil of New York up 1/4 at 35 1/4.

Selling pressure on the industrial market leaders was promptly resumed in the short session of the stock market today and prices continued the downward movement which was in progress at Friday's close. This "secondary reaction" following Tuesday's drastic decline was not unexpected, and its effect will be to place a more reasonable and sensible relation between corporate earnings and stock prices.

The week-end business reviews reported plenty of interruptions to the orderly conduct of business this week including politics, the weather, the money markets and the approach of the summer dull season. Bradstreet's reported purely commercial dealings, restricted to narrow limits for this season of the year, with commodity prices not holding as well as last year.

Radio, General Motors and other market favorites were pushed downward without interruption in the first hour as the result of persistent selling pressure. In the brokerage houses it was said that the fresh decline in prices had forced out considerable liquidation of weakly-margined accounts, confidence as well as resources of traders having been impaired by the land-slide this week.

Strength of the oil stocks was again exhibited in the face of persistent selling, and had its basis in the prospect of one or more increases in crude oil prices at the height of the consuming season. It was reported that the Rockefeller were selling Atlantic Refining stock to the Detroit Fisher interests at 130, about 4 points above current quotations and 16 points above the low price of the week. This accounts for the sharp rise in the stock in the last two days. Standard Oil of New York and New Jersey were again under accumulation, and numerous large blocks of stock passed through the market.

Well, not to keep you in suspense, we will tell you that Mussolini does not show in this picture. His double, Saviero Della Sicilia, of New York, practices his profession of barber and Sandusky, June 16.—Ruth Kelly, 21, Portsmouth, O., and Nellie Wade, 26, Charleston, W. Va., were in Erie county jail here today, charged with highway robbery at the instance of J. G. Plimmons, salesman of Toledo.

Plimmons claims he gave two women a "lift" in his auto as he was returning from New England, Ohio, to Toledo. During the trip one of the women pressed a revolver into his side and commanded him to turn into a wooded lane where he was bound and a watch and about $200 was taken from him, he alleged. The women then drove away in Plimmons' car, he declared.

CARDINALS NOW TOP NATIONAL

Reds Lose to Phillies. Cards Win from Robins Exchanging Places

New York, June 16.—The Cardinals, who have dislodged the Reds from the top of the National League ladder, face stronger opposition today from the third place Giants.

In a last-minute trade a few hours before the 25 player limit went into effect last night, John McGraw obtained the veteran pitcher he needed to round out his mound staff. He swapped Catcher Al Spohrer and three twirlers—Virgil Barnes and two rookies, Ben Cantwell and Bill Clarkson—to the Boston Braves in exchange for Gene-wich.

The Cardinals eased into first place when Bottomley's homer with two on base in the 14th staked them to a 5 to 2 win over Brooklyn.

The tail-end Phillies took an 8 to 7 slugfest from the Reds. Don Hurst walked his fourth homer in five games.

Aldridge, former Pirate, pitched the Giants to a 9 to 1 victory over the Bucs.

The beatneters dropped their seventh straight game when the Cubs nosed them out 5 to 4. Hack Wilson swatted his 12th homer.

The Tigers lost out to Washington in the 10th, 5 to 4.

With Grove on the mound, the Athletics swamped Cleveland, 12 to 0.

Brannon and Kress personally conducted the sprightly Browns to a 5 to 4 win over the Yanks. Each got a home run and Alvin Crowder managed to turn back the champions even though the Browns were outbatted by 10 hits to five. Babe Ruth's 24th homer of the season was wasted.

MacFayden, Red Sox twirler, held the White Sox hitless for seven innings and trimmed them 3 to 1.

FOGGY VERDICT IN GRUDGE BOUT

Declare Dave Shade Winner Over Courtney In Coney Island Scrap

New York, June 16.—One of those rare ring occurrences, a real grudge fight, wound up with a foggy decision last night at the Coney Island stadium, when Dave Shade was declared a winner over George Courtney at the end of ten round of mean milling.

This pair, ranked among the leading middleweights, had never met before this and, with the possibility of a title bout with Mickey Walker looming up for the winner, plus personal dislike of each other, they came down to the wire fighting savagely.

Shade carried the final round by spearing the wildly rushing Oklahoman with a variety of cleanly delivered punches. Dave's finish evidently won him the nomination as Courtney had previously won at least five rounds. However, George had been guilty of much holding and rough, unethical mauling and wrestling.

A majority of the press box observers thought Shade deserved no better than a draw and many contended that the round by round score should have returned Courtney the winner.

Courtney was so incensed at the verdict that he refused to shake hands with Shade and raised his gloved hands in gestures of disgust.

The men indulged in many words exchanges as they hammered away at each other. Courtney carried the fight to the Californian in the early rounds and although he missed many leads at the bobbing figure in front of him scored often with deft hooks and uppercuts.

ROESSLER AND ROBUSCH VAULT

Salem High Captain Trys For Olympics Place At Pittsburgh

Keith "Matt" Roessler, captain of Salem High's 1928 championship track team and one of the country's leading pole vaulters, will step into class competition today, competing in the Pittsburgh A. M. A. meet at Schenley oval this afternoon.

Roessler, who has been working hard since the closing of the High school season, will tryout for the chance to represent the Allegheny Mountain Athletic association in the sectional Olympic tryouts at Cincinnati next Friday and Saturday.

Competing against him in the pole vault will be William "Bill" Robusch, former Salem High star athlete, and other star vaulters of the tri-state district. Robusch, previous to Roessler's entry, was doped to win the pole vault easily.

Robusch will also represent the association in the high jump in both the meet today and the sectional tryout next week.

Lowell Allen, national indoor and outdoor champion of Salem High, entered the meet too late to be admitted for competition. He, however, is assured of a tryout in the Olympics through his work in the national intercollegiate meet, when he established a new national record of 13 feet 3-16 inches.

CITY HALL NINE TAKES BEATING FROM MULLINS

The Mullins playground baseball team enjoyed a field day at the expense of the City Hall "mush" ballers, last night at Centennial park, defeating them, 27-6.

Mullins, as the score indicates, had an easy time of it from the start, taking advantage of numerous errors by the City Hall infield to stack up a big lead in the early part of the game. Tom Haran, City Hall pitcher, pitched a fair game, but failed to receive any support.

Watkins and Schuller worked for the Mullins, holding the opponents down with little trouble.

The games in the city league are attracting unusual interest, a large crowd attending last night's game.

Monday, at Damascus, the feud between the Salem Memorial team and the Quakers reopened, with a picked aggregation from the Salem league going to Damascus to obtain revenge for the early season, five-inning licking received here.

Ministers Discuss Supplementary Bible

Chicago, June 16.—A "supplementary Bible" comprising poetry and prose which they believe to be divinely inspired in this age as the Books of Genesis and Psalms were years ago will be discussed by Liberal ministers of Chicago at their meeting here June 1.

The meeting was organized by the Reverend William Barrett Milard, editor of the "Supplementary Bible," which has just been published.

"The supplementary Bible is founded on the belief that God is not changeable, inspiring one generation and not inspiring the next," he said. He is willing to inspire all men of any age who are sufficiently sensitive to divine influence."

Among the poets represented are Shakespeare, Milton, Matthew Arnold, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Eugene Field, Edward A. Guest, S. E. Kiser and Douglas Malloch.

Those who will speak on the subject at the Chicago ministers' meeting include Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, the Rev. F. F. Shannon, the Rev. George Craig Stewart, the Rev. E. F. Tuttle, and the Rev. Ozora A. Davis.

LON CHANEY, JANNINGS ON NEW PROGRAM

Two of the screen's greatest character actors, Lon Chaney and Emil Jannings, will be seen in films at the State next week, while the Grand, in addition to its picture program, will have the "Queen City Melodists," a song and dance act, as an added attraction Wednesday and Thursday.

Jannings has the leading role in "The Street of Sin," which will be exhibited the first three days of the week. This is a drama of East Limehouse, the rapidly disappearing slum in London where crooks have lived for years. The noted German actor has the part of "Sledgehammer Bill," a big bruiser, who rules a district and has a girl of the streets for his domestic companion. It is a regeneration story, and a Salvation Army lass accomplishes this at the cost of her own life.

Playing the pathetic figure of the clown in "Laugh Clown Laugh," to be shown the last three days, Lon Chaney takes a part similar in some ways to his "He Who Gets Slapped." In the vehicle made popular by Lionel Barrymore on the stage, Chaney is seen as an actor who makes a tragic sacrifice for the girl he loves. Comedy and stirring drama go hand in hand.

Tim McCoy, the young western star who is ascending to stardom, takes the principal part in "Wyoming," which the Grand will show Monday and Tuesday. Dorothy Sebastian and William Fairbanks have important parts in this picture, a tale of Wyoming when it was first thrown open to white settlement.

Fake spiritualism and robberies will be found a-plenty in "A Thief in the Dark," coming Wednesday and Thursday. The crooks, unable to frighten the gem collector out of his prize jewels by tricks of the mediums, force him at the point of a gun to unload.

The stage act for these two nights has four people in it. Fancy and ballroom dancing, together with musical numbers, make up this act.

Two sisters, reared in the cheap theatrical world which is part of New York's "gay white way," try to rise above their level in "The Escape," the final picture of the week. Virginia Valli has the chief role, and William Russell is the hard-boiled manager of a night club. The title has to do with the girls' attempted escape from the sordid life they have been forced to lead because of environment and a dissolute father.

The full bills for the week are:

STATE
Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday—"The Street of Sin," Emil Jannings; comedy, "Nifty Nags," Pathe News; Monday night—free china to women.

THURSDAY, Friday, Saturday—"Laugh Clown Laugh," Lon Chaney; comedy, "Splash Yourself," Fables, "The Spider's Lair."

GRAND
Monday and Tuesday—"Wyoming," Tim McCoy; comedy, "Come, Meet Me!"
Wednesday and Thursday—"A Thief in the Dark," comedy, "Painting Pappas," on the stage—"Queen City Melodists."

Friday and Saturday—"The Escape," Virginia Valli; comedy, "Jack and Jill," No. 10 of "On Guard."

TONIGHT

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

Day of Model Home is Here

The desire for better living conditions, to own a home if possible, has brought into being the "model home" sponsored by builders and newspapers throughout the country. These homes are complete in every modern detail, furnished by expert interior decorators; landscaped correctly, even a motor is waiting in the garage. They establish the class of a neighborhood and assure home builders of protection of neighborhood conditions, and show what they are expected to live up to in their own planning.

To see a home of this sort furnishes ideas for planners. Each may deviate from the model in ways to fill his special needs. But the modern labor saving devices, closets and conveniences, give a practical demonstration to how they look, how much room they take up and silently answer all questions in the minds of investigators. The model house thus becomes a blessing to prospective home owners even if they cannot afford to buy the house outright as many people do.

In buying and building there are many things to determine—situation, traffic facilities, school, nearness of markets, post office, lighting, water waste and building restrictions.

Three were more than $2,500,000; 27 more than $500,000; 85 between $250,000 and $500,000; 305 between $100,000 and $250,000; and 715 between $50,000 and $100,000.

The value of the 403,990 fortunes was $552,904,510.

Tiffin—Trapped in a swamp, a flock of 130 sheep drowned recently on the Zeller farm near Bloomville east of here. A small stream left its banks, following rain, and flooded the swamp where the sheep were grazing.

either in one or two colors are strongly featured for spring. Sometimes the felt crown has a straw brim and at other times it is the contrary. Wide incrustations of felt partly cover the straw crown in triangles or other geometric designs, so that it is hard to detect whether the hat is straw-trimmed with felt or the reverse.

Felt and straw in narrow strands are braided together or simply used side by side, each material making a certain part of the hat in a new combination.

Turbans composed of swathings of crocheted straw give a characteristic air and show off the good lines of the well-shaped head.

Horse-hair, which is usually connected with mid-Victorian chairs, comes as a material for hats, but very much touched up so that it is really worthy to be in company with the strips of delicate straw with which it is woven.

Hand-painted ribbon is a novelty in trimming this year. In a general way, all sorts of trimmings are used, tassels, crystal balls, jewels of colored stones, feathers, flowers and ribbon.

Man Labor Biggest Cost of Beet Crop

Man labor is the biggest item in the cost of growing sugar beets in Northwestern Ohio, according to records from 23 farms in that district. On these farms, 52.3 per cent of the cost of the beets goes into man labor, regular farm labor, contract labor, and other kinds. Most of the work was done by contract labor, which absorbed 35.6 per cent of the total cost of raising the beets. The regular farm labor called for 14.2 per cent of the cost of the crop and miscellaneous labor took up 2.4 per cent.

The land charge, or interest and taxes, was the next most important item. Of the whole cost of the beet crop, 18.7 per cent went into the land charge.

Horse labor is an expensive feature of sugar beet culture. It is found. It absorbs 13 per cent of the expenditure in growing a beet crop. The seed accounts for 3.7 per cent of the cost, manure and fertilizer for 4.6 per cent.

The average farm in the group surveyed, had 10.73 acres in beets. The average yield per acre was 9.93 tons. The total cost of the beets per acre was $62.83 and the cost per ton was $6.12. Allowance of $2 an acre was made for the tops of the beets.

Feeder Cattle Will Stay High In Price

Prices of feeder cattle probably will remain relatively high for some time, in the opinion of C. R. Arnold of the rural economics department of the Ohio State university. Arnold bases this belief on the fact that there is an extremely small number of beef cattle on the ranges, with a decided shortage of breeding cows. Further, Arnold points out it requires several years to increase this supply to any great extent.

Feeders at the present time are bringing an unusually high price, and Arnold doubts whether the supply of cattle will catch up with the demand for some time.

The reason for the present shortage in the supply of beef cattle goes back several years, according to Arnold. Extreme enthusiasm eight or ten years ago over beef cattle, and high prices for breeding animals at that time, gave a great stimulus to production. As a result, the market was over-supplied and even the best cattle feeders in Ohio began to lose money. Many barns and feed lots in Western Ohio have been empty during the past four or five years. When the price of beef cattle dropped and there was no incentive to buy or raise feeders the breeding stock on the ranges was thrown on the market and still further depressed the price, but curtailed the supply.

It is this curtailment, at the source of supply, which is responsible, at the present time, for the shortage and high prices of feeder cattle and breeding stock.
